Welcome

Thank you for joining me for the last session of our study on 1, 2, & 3 John. As we close out this time together I want to tell you how much my heart has been encouraged from diving into these three letters from the one who Jesus loved!!

The Apostle John bears his heart for the believers at the time of his writings, and these words are preserved to be an expression of the same heart and concern for us today.

My hope for you is that you will make the effort to personally review your time in these letters and summarize what you have studied in a way you can carry it forward. Watch for this process during the teaching time in this video, and then as a group or individual, complete the process!!

Looking forward to our next time to study together in the Spring! Little Children, love one another!

Blessings,

Cheryl Jamison
